ABOUT OURSELVES.

This week marks a change in the editorial management of the GAZETTE. Hereafter the paper will be in charge of Mr. Elmer J. Condit. Mr. Conevery the editor and publisher having accepted a position with the Metropolitan Plate Company, of New York City. There will be no change in the ownership, Mr. Conevery continuing the proprietorship and business management. The change is made purely for business reasons.

Mr. Condit needs but few words of introduction to GAZETTE readers, he will be remembered as editor of the news [illegible] 188[illegible]. He is a vigorous, capable all-around newspaper man, wields a trenchant pen and possesses a great [illegible] of [illegible] few [illegible] N. Y., Post-Express. He has had years of valuable experience, on daily, weekly and Sunday morning papers and is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the work, connected with the publication [illegible] GAZETTE in [illegible]

THE divided verdict of the Coroner's jury at Lattimer, is decidedly unsatisfactory. The unfortunate men were killed [illegible]. If the officers [illegible] exonerated, but if the officers fired into the mob needlessly they should be prosecuted in accordance with the statute.

The shipment of iron ore from lake ports will be large this season, will lead all previous years by [illegible] tons. Ninety-five per cent. of the allotment of ore association has already been sold and prices show a buoyancy under the heavy sales.

The Republicans of Greater New York on Tuesday nominated Hon. Benjamin F. Tracy for Mayor. Mr. Tracy was Secretary of the Navy under President Harrison. Republicans can find no fault with his politics, as he is a partisan of the most pronounced kind. On the same day the State Convention nominated George Yaw Williams for Governor. The Chicago platform was endorsed.

The State Board of Claims of New York, has established a sound precedent. Twenty-years ago a Brooklyn man was sent to prison for a libel [illegible] He served two years of this time and was released [illegible] last week awarded the [illegible] injustice of imprisonment, damages for false imprisonment. He had made a claim for [illegible] which was out of all proportion to the injury done, but the decision shows that the State should pay for its errors. Such cases [illegible] extremely rare but occur sometimes.

The officers of the Democratic State Committee met at the Hotel Lafayette, Philadelphia, last Tuesday evening. State Treasurer and Auditor General Mathues were present by invitation but took no part in the proceedings. Of the 67 members of the committee 40 were present at the opening of the meeting. The chairmen of the committees reported that the committees were all in good shape for the campaign. Addresses were made by Chairman Kerns, Congressman Dalzell, Senator Quay and others. The committee will meet again on the day before the election.

[illegible] the Democratic vote. A resolution was [illegible] Court of Appeals. ALL citizens, irrespective of [illegible] government has been notified by the United States that Weyler must close the whole concentration business. The Cubans have earned their independence by the heroic struggle of the past few years. At no time has Weyler been victorious, though backed by an army of [illegible] men. A year ago the insurgents were [illegible] by a series of brilliant triumphs, capturing strongly fortified towns and menacing even the gates of Havana. A large part of the island is now under control of the organized government of the insurgents, who recently held their Presidential election. They are entitled to recognition by the United States. Spain may growl some because Uncle Sam says Weyler must cease killing inoffensive old men, women and children [illegible] President will be supported by every American who [illegible] maintaining the country's honor.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The President's Deal With Platt Disturbed by Hawaiian Advices.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Mr. McKinley will kill Seth Low's candidacy for Mayor of New York and will instruct Senator Platt and his handpicked delegation, to the next Republican National Convention as McKinley shouters. Boss Platt did not relish the latter part of the program when Mr. McKinley suggested it, but he did not dare to oppose it, for he knew well as he did that Mr. McKinley would accept nothing short of an ironclad promise of support in exchange for Mr. Platt's influence in behalf of Tracy and against Low. The deal was kept very quiet, and it came out even before Mr. Tracy, who had previously declared that he would not be the candidate, announced his willingness to accept the Republican nomination. According to Democratic advices, it will make no difference who the Republican nominee is, a Democrat will be elected. It is understood that the President and Hobart are also in the deal, and that the next Republican ticket is to be, if the parties to the deal have their way, the same as the last, McKinley and Hobart. [illegible] promise to [illegible] the Treasury, the position he has so [illegible] for some years, he is rejected.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Christian's Name Was "a Sad Misnomer."

[illegible] Country Club's grounds, near Wurtsboro, was the scene of the murder of one man and the fatal shooting of another, at about 6 o'clock yesterday. The murderer is Wallace J. Christian, [illegible] of Wurtsboro.

About a year ago Christian quarrelled with a man in New York City, and [illegible] for his appearance at court. Ambulance Chasers in St. Louis.

There are about half a dozen men in this city who make a living chasers," and one or more of them can be found on the scene of almost accident.

The occupation of the "ambulance chaser" is one the methods he uses have been used to gain the same ends for years back. The "ambulance chaser" is in the employ of some lawyer who makes a specialty of handling damage suits.

When an accident of any sort happens the "ambulance chaser" is right to the front in the crowd which gathers. He gets the name and address of the person who is injured or the injured person's agent. Then the ambulance chaser visits the dispensary, where he usually finds a way to learn what he wishes.

In a few days he calls on the person injured and explains to him what a good case he has if he will sue for damages. If the injured person do so, the "chaser" puts in his fine work and offers to find an attorney who will take the case and carry it through to completion of the amount called as damages. If this is no cost to the plaintiff, for if the suit is lost the lawyer gets no pay. The smooth "chaser" usually succeeds in getting the case of
